Introductions

Welcome To

North Carolina Central University

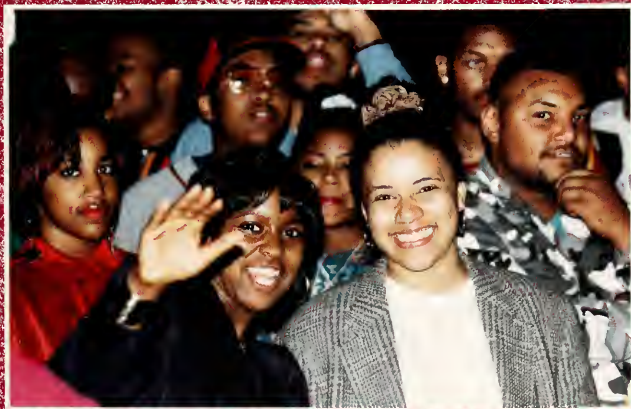

July 1983

Our Company

Whether singularly or in groups, our company was true. We walked to games, played cards, fixed each other's hair, and kept one another company. We kept each other company during public and private moments. Those special times and the company we kept are what our memories are made of as we Reminisce.

Our company included over five thousand on-campus and off-campus students, eight hundred faculty and staff, and numerous friends from "back home".

Together, we formed over seventy organizations and clubs. Together, we encountered success and failure, victory and defeat, and through it all we became Eagles

Our Hospitality

We opened our campus and our hearts to one another and the Durham Community. Whether it was the Community Health Fair sponsored by Student Health Services, the Big Brother/big Sister Program sponsored by the Junior Class, the Evening Tutoring sponsored by the American Educators, or the Pre-Dawn Dance sponsored by SGA, our hospitality was extended to one and all.

During the year eight hundred events and activities were organized and presented to the University and Durham Community. These events and activities were sponsored by student organizations, university departments, and outside agencies. Each event and activity contributed to the betterment of the University and to the learning process. Together, the events provided that backdrops upon which memories are played against. Let's Reminisce.

Our Political Spirit

At North Carolina Central University, our political spirit is one of our greatest strengths. We support and involve ourselves in the political progression of things. From national to local to campus, our politics were the focal activity of many Eagles. Our political year kicked off with the Bill Clinton Presidential Campaign Rally held in our Library Bowl during the Fall Semester and concluded with SGA elections in the Spring.

During the 1992-93 school year, North Carolina Central University faculty, staff, and students lobbied the "powers that be" in the name of Democracy. We cast our hats into the political arena as candidates for city council, county commissioner, SGA president or Miss NCCU. We rallied on campus for student rights and concerns, and then rallies in Raleigh for the right of Historically Black Colleges to exist. Our political spirit was high and we Eagles soared on the updraft of discontent.

Our Talent

Whether on stage or in the classroom, we will always remember the Talented Eagles. From the chemistry class to the concert hall, we were talented.

Michael...

Eagles

REMINISCE

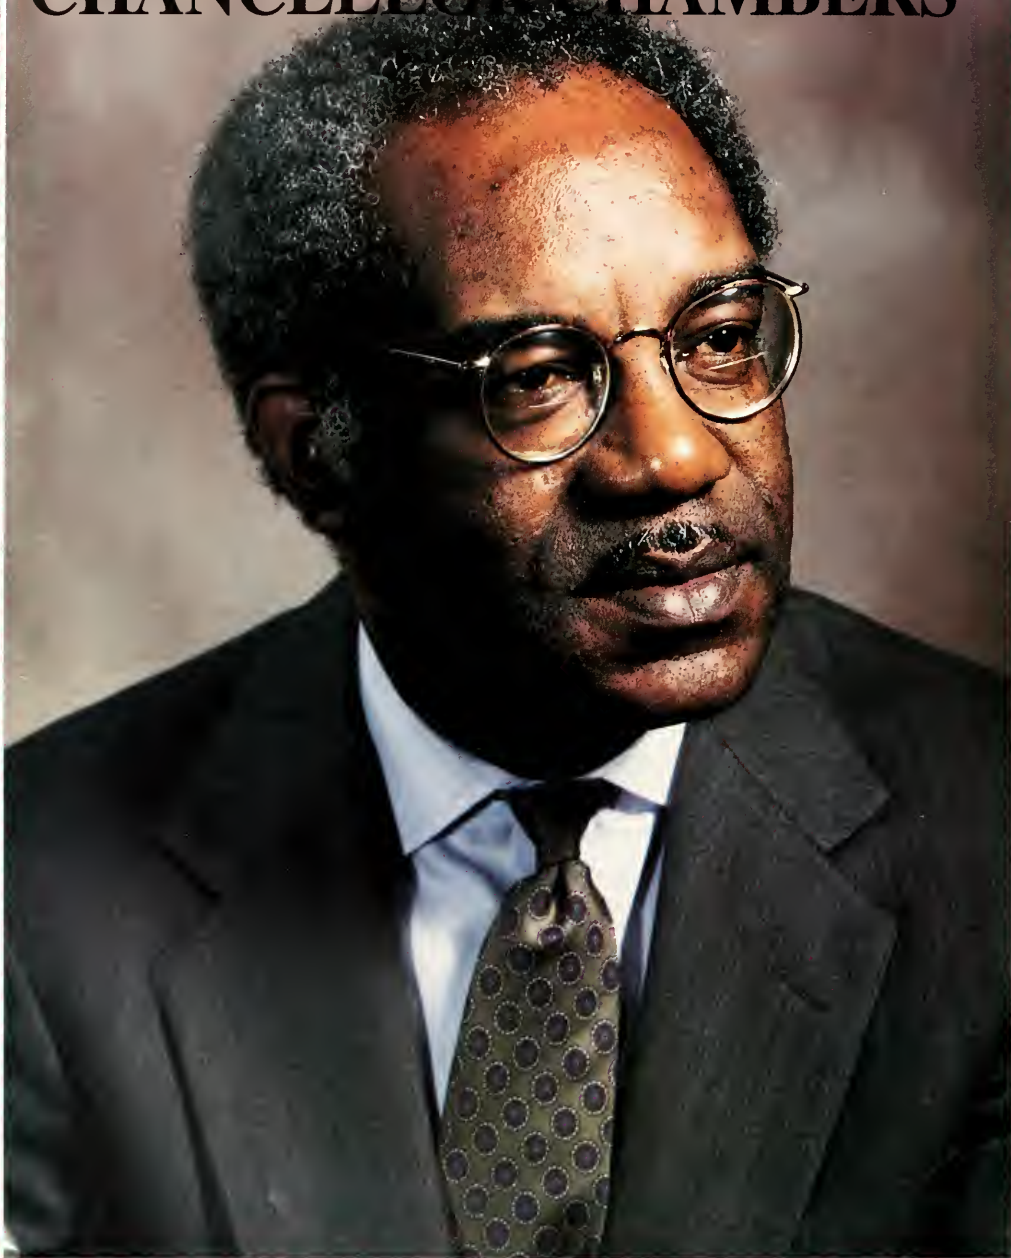

OUR TALENT

Collectively and/or individually, every eagle had talent. Whether on stage or in the classroom, we showcased our best qualities.

Entertained by Ice Cube, thrilled by the Mighty Eagle Basketball Team, tickled by A. J. Jamal, comforted by each other, and amazed by the Graduation Ceremony. From the very beginning to the very end, we were Eagles.

CHANCELLOR CHAMBERS

The new chancellor of North Carolina Central University was truly a welcome addition. Julius Chambers, our new chancellor, received his bachelor's degree in history and graduated summa cum laude in 1958 from what was then North Carolina College at Durham. He then received his master's degree in history from the University of Michigan in 1959, and his law degree from the University of North Carolina in 1962. As a law student, he served as editor-in-chief of the North Carolina Law Review and graduated first in his class. The following year, 1963, he received the LL. M. degree from Columbia University School of Law.

Chambers became the first legal intern for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. In 1964 he established a private practice in Charlotte, concentrating on civil rights issues. He gained national recognition in the areas of school desegregation, voting rights, and fair employment. Among his Supreme Court cases was Swann vs. Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education which he argued in 1971. This landmark case established busing as a means of achieving desegregation in the public school system.

Dr. Chambers has served as the director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Higher Education Fund, as a member of the New Jersey Board of Higher Education, and taught civil rights and constitutional law courses at the University of Virginia, Harvard University, the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia University, and the University of Michigan.

WE OUT!

Throughout the course of the year, many fads especially ones associated with the hip hop culture converged on this campus. Styles such as Daisy Dukes, mini-afros, french rolls, braids, mules and Karl Kani clothing were popular looks to sport. The fact that these fads were some what inexpensive, easy to maintain, and comfortable to wear made them even more popular. These fads were also versatile. They could be seen any where on campus including the classroom.

PEACE!!

CAMPUS POLICE

DO YOU KNOW WHERE YOUR CAR IS?

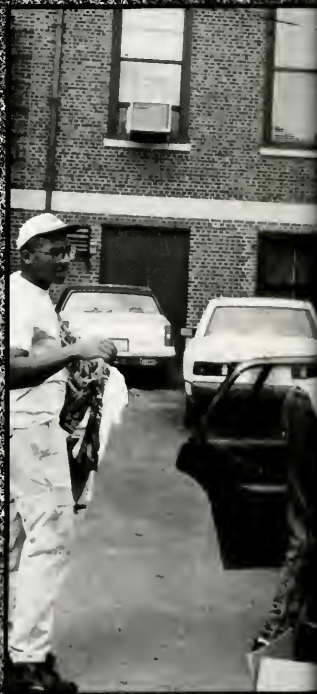

READY OR NOT ...

There are very few things that remain constant in the world. One thing that does is moving into the dorms. No matter how many things you sift through, sort out and leave home. It always seem as if you bring back twice as many things as you had the year before that to mention the amount of space allocated to store these things in is also significantly decreasing from year to year. This yearly ritual is carried out by the majority of North Carolina Central University's student body every August. The seven dormitories are awakened from their summer nap by the sounds of anxious students waiting to waiting to get a head start on the new school year.

RALLY FOR CHANGE...

CLINTON AND GORE RALLY

A beautiful, bright autumn day marked this patriotic event. Bill Clinton and Al Gore, presidential and vice-presidential candidates, supporters ranging from the very young to the very old came together for a very exciting democratic celebration in North Carolina Central University's library bowl. Hyped and truly concerned people patiently awaited the democratic ticket nominees, Governor Bill Clinton and Senator Al Gore. The wait was much longer than expected, but luckily entertainment was provided by North Carolina Central University's marching band, cheerleaders, jazz band, and others. When all the Democratic candidates arrived, the crowd cheered and those near the candidates were greeted with both a hand shake and a smile. When Clinton finally stepped up to the podium, he spoke out about issues such as the treatment of Blacks in America, health care costs in America, financial aid reform for students, and the job market. Clintons speech inspired most of the racially mixed crowd comprised of students from NCCU, Duke, and UNC Chapel Hill, some students still had concerns for the future.

CLINTON/GORE

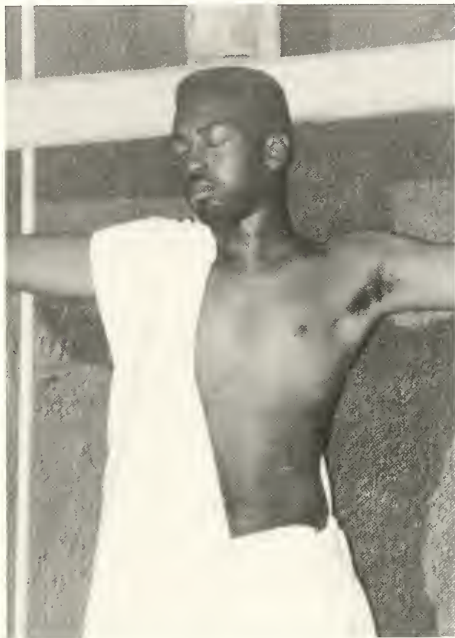

LIFT EVERY VOICE ...

WPI ANNIVERSARY

Hallelujah, Praise God, and Sing Choir Sing were just a few of the remarks that came from the overwhelming crowd that was stand-in room only. The worship began with the members of WPI marched down the isle with a routine that was vintage WPI style. Once WPI reached the stage, their voices united to send inspirational harmonies and melodies throughout the crowded auditorium. One of the songs even contained a visual aid and a tribute to one of our fallen Eagles, Stephen Birchette.

After the spirit lifting performance by WPI, other college choirs from near and far performed. WPI welcomed choirs from Duke, UNC Chapel Hill, UNC-Charlotte, UNC-Greensboro, ECU, and a community choir from Durham. All the Choirs put on excellent and inspirational performances.

CAREER FAIRS

During the course of this school year the Career Planning and Placement Center sponsored many career fairs. Companies such as Burrows Welcome and Glaxo were more than happy to sit down and talk to graduating seniors and other students. Even representatives from the city of Durham Parks and Recreations and the United Parcel Service were in attendance. These, and many more companies, were ready willing and able to assist and inform North Carolina Central University students about life after graduation, the current job market, how to start a resume, and interviewing skills. Members of this elite task force included many former North Carolina Central University students. These former Eagles were especially helpful because they have been where so many North Carolina Central University students still need to go!

DORM DAYS

This year, or any year, life in any one of North Carolina Central University's seven dormitories was anything but boring. Often times, dormitory house councils had plenty of things to do for students with time on their hands. But if you didn't feel like doing any of those things, you could do what many dorm residents chose to do. Activities like watching television or movies, playing saga games, playing spades, and last but not least studying were popular ways of passing time.

NCCU ALUMNI

During the homecoming week festivities, former Eagles came back to their alma mater from as far as California and as near as Raleigh. Whether conversing with each other in the Student Center or laughing with professors in the halls, they found one thing in common: it was a reunion that would be remembered.

Queens

The 1992-93 North Carolina Central University Campus queens were more radiant, more talented, and more intelligent than ever! Whether doing things like participating in beauty pageants, stepping in step shows, or taking part trivia contests, they exuded all the qualities of true queens. Figures such as Keitra Musgrave played dual roles. During her first year at North Carolina Central University, she acted as both Miss Freshman and Miss Durham-Chapel Hill. Kia Hardy, our own Miss Nothe Carolina Central University, was a member of the winning Honda Campus All Star Challenge team. Miss Alpha Lambda, Fredicia Caldwell, was a part of the hard corp stepping team of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated. Even when just hanging out, the North Carolina Central University campus queens truly let their "Eagle Pride" show!

THE CORONATION

The Coronation of Miss NCCU, Kia Dawn Hardy was a grand success! B.N. Duke auditorium was full to capacity with students, alumni, and proud parents on this "Dawning of Excellence". Isn't she lovely was the number one comment that described Kia Hardy on the day of her Coronation. During the Coronation itself, the royal court was presented, campus queens from every organization were on hand to pay their respects to Kia, and Student Government Association members were installed by SGA President, Phyllis Jeffers.

O-M-I-N-G

THE BALL

The ball that proceeded the Coronation was a sight to remember also. The gymnasium inside the Walker Complex was decorated as beautifully and as elegantly as B. N. Duke was decorated for the Coronation. Surely a wonderful time was had by all who attended this lovely event.

IT'S HOMECOMING YALL!!

IN LIVING COLOR

"We'll rock your world!" was the statement used to describe NCCU's own Sound Machine when they hosted their annual presentation of "In Living Color." Like the real show, this In Living Color that was presented by the band contained a series of acts. Some of the acts were just reenactments from the original show and some of the acts were that one of a kind NCCU Sound Machine comedy.

Needless to say, all acts were completely and totally hilarious. All of the acts were also well put together and music was provided by a DJ during the short intermissions. While the music played, NCCU students truly let their E-FUNK show!

SHOWTIME AT BN DUKE

Showtime at B.N. Duke was "hype" as some of the fellas would call it. The atmosphere was full to the brink with excitement. People stood impatiently waiting for what their fellow eagles had to offer. The auditorium filled like ants into man ant hole. After everyone finally got seated, it was announced that the show was about to begin.

No there was no Simbad, but there was someone who was just as good. The whole show was packed with tremendous amounts of talent which ranged from slow sexy harmony to hip-hop. Just like the real Apollo, the acts were judged by the audience but unlike the real show, every eagle was a winner.

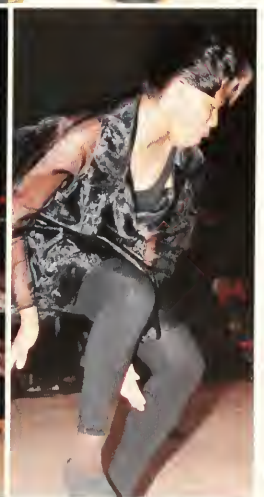

STEP SHOW

Once again this year's step show was the main event of the 1992 homecoming week. Greek organizations from all over the campus came out to showcase their stepping capabilities. Performances were given by organizations such as the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Delta Sigma Theta sorority, Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi fraternity, Omega Psi Phi fraternity, Sigma Gamma Rho sorority (from Fayetteville State Univ.), and Zeta Phi Beta sorority. All of the organizations which sepped did a great job!

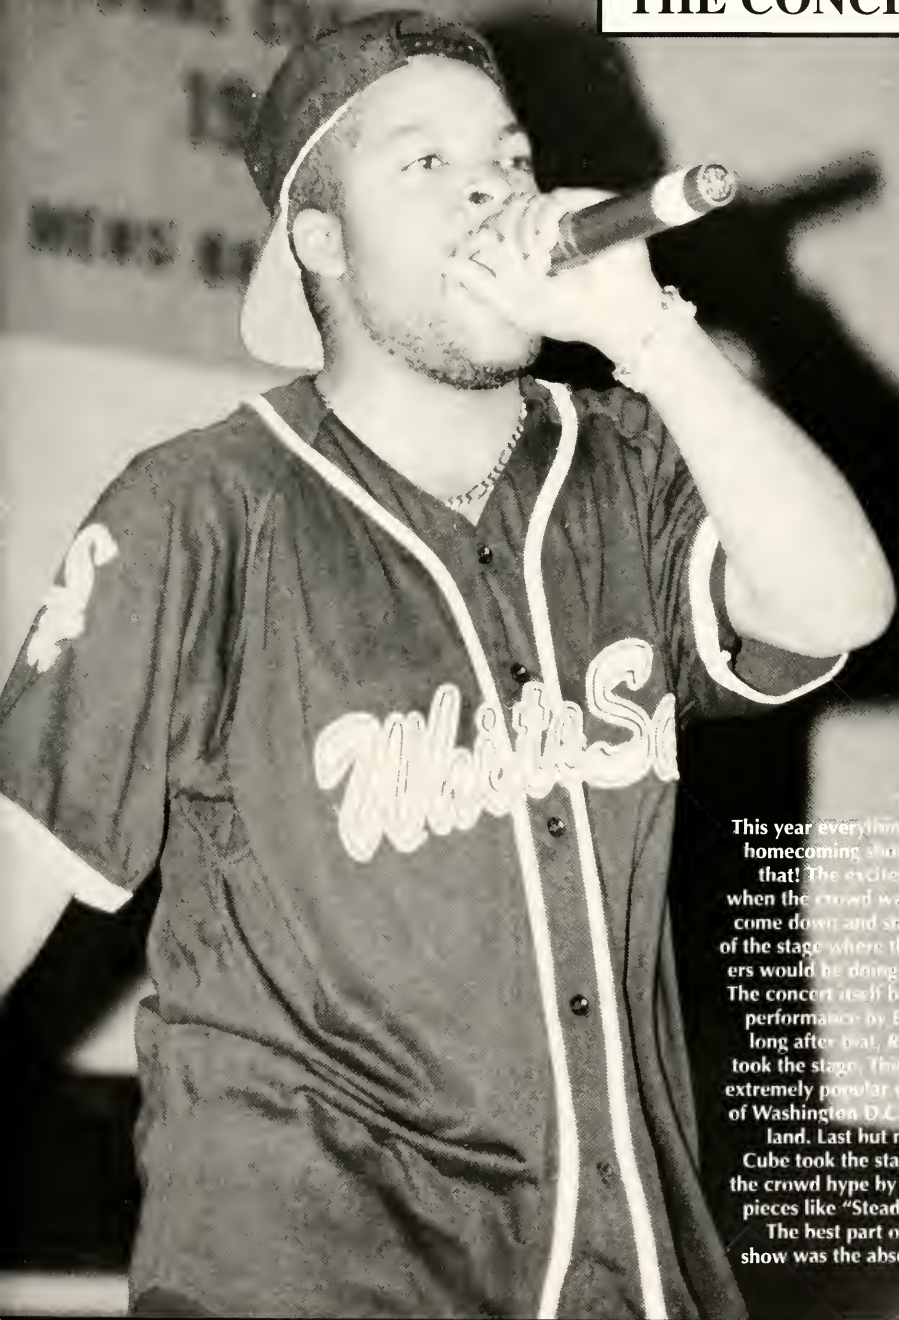

YOU GO!

FASHION SHOW

The Fashion Extravaganza
The date was November 3,
1992 and on that day many
North Carolina Central University students and visitors came from miles around to see the fashion show put on by the Bon Vivant Fashion
Society. The models began the show with all the members of Bon Vivant parading up and down the stage in the year's new fashions. In our packed auditorium, dazzled spectators cheered excitedly when models did something out of the ordinary. Other highlights of the evening included a visit from four Ebony Fashion Fair models. From the cheering and applause, it was apparent that the crowd appreciated the show!

THE CONCERT

THE SHOW

This year everything about the homecoming show was all of that! The excitement began when the crowd was invited to come down and stand in front of the stage where the performers would be doing their thing. The concert itself began with a performance by E-Hype. Not long after that, Rare Essence took the stage. This group was extremely popular with natives of Washington D.C. and Maryland. Last but not least Ice Cube took the stage. He kept the crowd hype by performing pieces like "Steady Mobbin."

The best part of this year's show was the absence of violence.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. was founded at North Carolina Central University on February 23, 1932. The sorority's motto "Service to All Mankind" was exemplified during the 1992-93 academic year.

Alpha Chi members served as tutors for the ELIMU program, provided meals for the homeless, visited the Brian Nursing Home biweekly and sponsored Black Dollar Day in support of area Black businesses. In addition, the sorority sponsored several skating parties, halls, seminars, and of course the Mr. Swim Suit Contest.

The Alpha Chi Chapter continued to serve the University and community with their good works and talents.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

The ladies of the Alpha Lambda Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta have had a successful year. The year for the Delta ladies started with a highway clean-up and followed through with seminars, mixers, campus clean-ups and workshops. The members of the sorority also raised funds for the Hurricane Andrew Relief Fund and for the family of the late Stephen Birchette.

In addition to the listed activities, the Alpha Lambda chapter participated in community service projects such as Crossroads, a mentorship program; African Educators Association, a tutorial program; AIDS hotline; and the Adopt-A-Family program.

"Delta Week" was scheduled during the week of Nov. 15-21. Various activities were scheduled for the week.

Finance Club

The Finance Club was founded on the campus of North Carolina Central University in 1979. The objectives of the Finance Club include providing outside-the-classroom learning through educational speakers and seminars. Monthly seminars were set up during this year by employees of area banks to familiarize students with the expectations of the corporate world.

The Finance Club's major events for the year were speakers from the community and fundraisers. The major project for the year was the participation of Finance Club members in the Durham County United Way Allocation Process. The members were allowed to review agency programs and budgets that requested financial aid from United Way.

The members ended the year with a field trip to a seminar in Myrtle Beach, S.C. This trip enabled the students to network with other mentors across the country and to possibly gain employment.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon

Lambda Alpha Epsilon is a new organization on the campus of North Carolina Central University. It was established in the Fall of 1992. While working to fulfill their chapter's motto "Nerves of Blue Steel and Heart Gold," they are also striving toward their national motto "Commitment to Excellence."

The goals established for Lambda Alpha Epsilon are to promote professionalism and a system of networking in the Criminal Justice field, to promote unity of brotherhood and sisterhood and to promote a strong relationship with the community.

Major projects that Lambda Alpha Epsilon participated in throughout the year were seminars and working with neighborhood children.

Math & Computer Science Club

The Math and Computer Science Club lives for the motto "There's no problem or program too hard if you put your mind and time into it." The club contributes to the knowledge of the students as well as ourselves by holding seminars. These seminars are presented to inform the majors in mathematics and computer science as well as other majors to the new and rarely chosen areas in their field. Members of the Math and Computer Science Club also assist students in the Math Learning Center (MLC). The members help students who are having difficulty finding solutions to mathematical problems. Annual activities held by the club are fundraisers and picnics.

The Math and Computer Science Club was established at North Carolina Central University in 1949.

N.A.A.C.P.

The N.A.A.C.P. was founded in 1909 with its purpose and goals being to assist those whose civil rights were violated and misrepresented

The North Carolina Central chapter of the N.A.A.C.P. under the direction of Mrs. Lou S. Barnes, tried to uphold the meaning of this national organization by going into the Durham community and serving as Big Brothers and Sisters and tutors for the John Avery Boys and Girls Club. Their goal was to be role models for the boys and girls and to be a voice for students when their rights had been neglected or denied.

Projects that the N.A.A.C.P. participated in during the course of the year were fundraisers.

Student Ambassadors are the "light" for North Carolina Central University. The key goal of the organization is student recruitment from all over the state, country and the world. The student ambassador is the first person that tour groups meet when they first arrive at NCCU, leaving a lasting impression of the people and the school.

This academic year has been strenuous, very demanding and fun for the members of the Student Ambassadors Program. Apart from tours, the organization has had a t-shirt contest, a social and an awards night to end the year.

U.N.I.Q.U.E

United Northerners In Quest for Unparalleled Excellence is a regional organization for students from the Northeast. Its purpose is to create and maintain unity among individuals from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

U.N.I.Q.U.E. began with a car wash and followed through with activities such as a pizza party, fundraisers and the traditional UNIQUE-Metro football game. In addition, UNIQUE took donations for the Hale House located in Harlem, New York where drug addicted and AIDS babies were taken care of by the late Mother Clara Hale.

At the closing of the semester, UNIQUE had its' first annual UNIQUE WEEK 12th-17th. During the week, there was a DJ on the patio and vendors to resemble that "back home" feeling. The closing of the week featured a party in the patio area.

"Where there is unity, there is strength" is the motto that shines upon North Carolina Central University Worship and Praise Inspirational Mass Choir. The choir was established at NCCU in 1987.

The Worship and Praise Inspirational Mass Choir is a nondenominational choir. Its' intentions are to spread the goodness and encourage souls to Christ through song ad worship.

The members hope that their organization will enhance spiritual growth, promote love, encourage academic excellence, foster greater unity and serve the university and greater Durham community.

And let the light shine on the Field !!!!

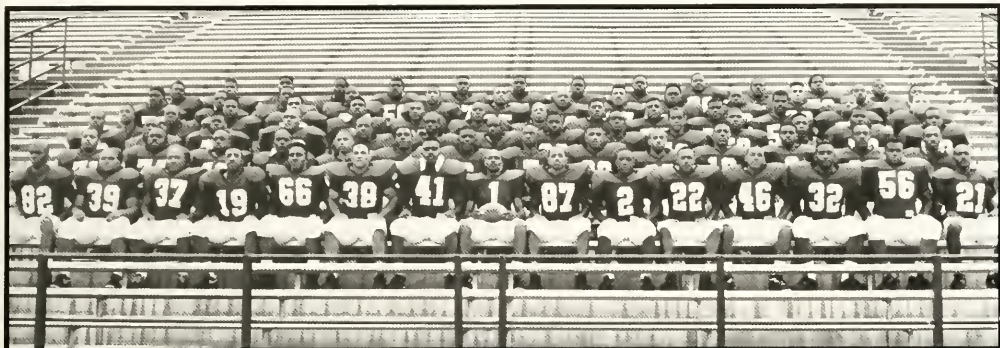

In 91-92 the NCCU Football Team ended the season with an overall record of three wins and eight losses. Our Eagles suffered a devastating losses to NC A&T and South Carolina State. Many times during the 92-93 season, there seemed to be no light at the end of the Eagles tunnel. The Eagles started freshman quarterback Brad McAdams who finished with an impressive rookie year. McAdams who threw for over 1,000 yards and ten touchdowns was just getting started. But, many felt that the returning junior running back Joe Simmons was the eagles savior. Simmons who ran for over 525 yards and five touchdowns is close to setting or breaking records for NCCU.

Get Fired Up

The Eagles also had an impressive kicking game with Kevin Huston. Huston who helped win two games during the regular season with excellent field goal kicking. Huston also kicked a fifty plus yard field goal which was the longest field in NCCU history. The NCCU Eagles finished the season with a 19-31 loss to Hampton University.

When we reminisce over you!!

When students at NCCU reminisce over the 92-93 basketball season the first thing that comes to mind is Steven Eugene Birchette. Birchette a 19-year old sophomore from Virginia died from an asthma attack after a pick-up game.

A memorial service was held for Steven where the student body and the basketball team showed their respect. Birchette's jersey # 30 was hung in the Eagles locker room as reminder of who Steven was.

Hoop Squad/Eagle Storm

With this emotional stimulus behind them the Eagle Basketball team went on a rampage winning the first seventeen games they played. They suffered their first and worst defeat 106-81 to John C. Smith. The Eagles won their next two games until they journeyed into Virginia Union who handed them a 63-73 loss in OT. With the regular season closing the Eagles took a trip south to show that no school was safe from the Eagle Storm by defeating Clark Atlanta.

By the end of the regular season the Eagles clinched the Southern Division title and were waiting for the CIAA Tournament to start so they could face the Northern Division champs V. Union.

Once the tournament started fans in Richmond and Durham could not wait to see the "But everyone forgot that both schools are Black Schools." therefore, the game would not be televised.

1993 CIAA SOUTHERN DIVISION CHAMPS!!!!!!

Once NCCU met V. Union it was a game to remember which V. Union won 61-67 and with that V. Union took the CIAA title. Many thought the Eagles were doomed when they lost to the Panthers of V. Union. After beating Alabama A&M, the Eagles would have to play V. Union again. Our Eagles picked apart the Panthers and scored a 93-81 victory win over the Panthers making them the 1993 SOUTH ATLANTIC CHAMPS. After a small rest the Eagles were pitted against the number one team in the nation C. S. Bakersfield, the Eagles held their own during the game with C. Daye and S. Stewart on the floor. But even with the hard effort the Eagles were unable to stop the number one team in Division II basketball, C. S. Bakersfield defeated the Eagle hoop squad in a 80-86 decision.

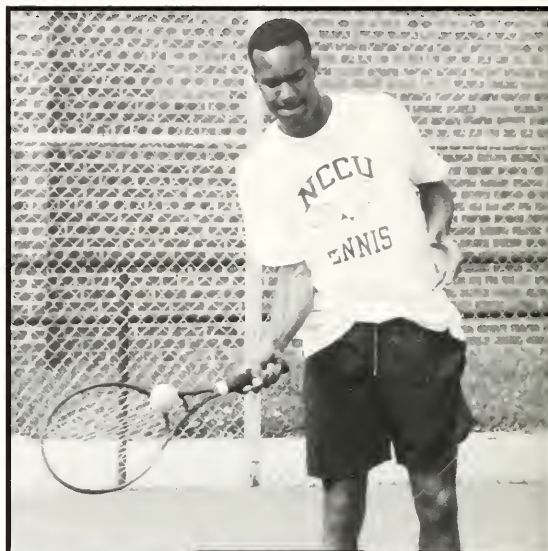

Tennis

The 1992-93 year proved to be another great year for the NCCU Tennis Team. The team under the guidance of Coach Curtis Lawson and Assistant Coach James Robbins, finished the season fourth in the CIAA, and second in the Southern Division.

Despite various injuries, and a lack of depth the Eagle Tennis Team displayed hustle and effort while still maintaining the "Eagle Pride". After a shaky start, the team came together as a unit and became a feared force in the CIAA.

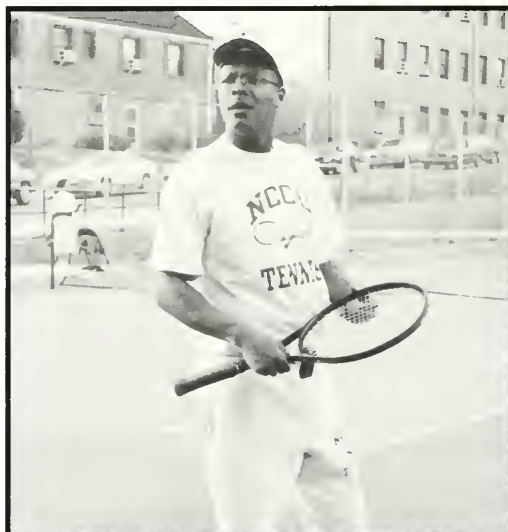

After proving to competitors on the court and in the classroom, the Tennis Team showed that they are winners on and off the court and that "THEY WILL BE BACK" J. C. G. /C. D.

The Season

During the 1992-93 women's basketball season there was little talk of a nation championship or even a CIAA Conference title. Due to injuries early in the season to some key players the Lady Eagles fell short of their goal which was to improve on their weaknesses.

After finishing 5-18 overall and 5-14 in the CIAA, the Lady Eagles hope to have returning to the squad M. Stewart who is a two-time ALL-CIAA selection who averaged 15.7 ppg and 6.9 reb a game while CIAA ROOKIE OF THE YEAR, S. Moorman, who averaged 12.0 ppg and 8.4 reb a game.

Volleyball

Power Play

The 92-93 Lady Eagles Volleyball team was a young team but hard working. Our Lady Eagles season started out by being ranked in the preseason polls. They were ranked fifth. In the first few games the squad proved that they might be young in age but not in heart, body, and soul. The team finished second in the Southern Division behind St. Augustine.

Strike up the band...the "Sound Machine" that is! This year's marching band has done it yet again. The Sound Machine has played an important role in helping North Carolina Central University students maintain their Eagle pride. This seemingly easy task is done at every single performance lifting the spirits of every eagle in attendance. The band's musical selections include a mixture of soulful ballads, hip hop, and contemporary rhythm and blues.

We see a student body diverse in ideas and backgrounds, but with one thing in common: their dedication to having fun as well as a commitment to their studies. Because most North Carolina Central University students are remarkable well rounded, they bring a world of ideas with them to share with others. They use their creativity to do things that no one else would even dream of doing. We are the Class of 1993!

Throughout the year, as students, faculty, and staff, we participated in various challenges, but responded to them in separate ways. We saw changes in our school and in our environment, but we learned to adjust to them and to make the year as fulfilling as it could be. We felt the world changing around as a new president and military aid to Somalia, AIDS and other diseases surrounded us and a stronger spread of crime and violence developed on our streets.

Today the term "family" can have various meanings to different people. For some people, an instant picture of a mother, father, and siblings come to mind. For others, family means something else entirely.

As the divorce rate has risen, stepparents have become more prominent in society. Many students at NCCU had a stepparent filling the gap left by one parent or the other.

A stepparent added a new twist to the family unit, but the dominate force in the NCCU structure is still the family and family ties. Through the support of the Chancellor (Chancellor's Banquet) and families, NCCU will continue to be the best it can be.
